

Parent Code of Conduct

- I will remind my child to have fun amidst the ups and downs of baseball. Kids start playing baseball because they think its fun; they stop playing when they cannot find the fun in it anymore.
- I commit to ensuring my child arrives to games and practices on time. We will all be late occasionally, but our team must value and expect punctuality.
- I will stay away from the dugout during games and practices unless a coach has invited me to be there, I will let the coaches coach and try to avoid providing conflicting messages during the games and practices.
- I will show respect for the umpires. Umpires will at times make the wrong call. Voicing my displeasure will not improve the situation.
- I will respect the opposing team, coaches and fans. They are the same as us but wear different uniforms.
- I will refrain from public complaints about coaches, other players, and other families on our team.
- I will schedule a time with the coach to calmly and constructively discuss problems I have, rather than taking up valuable time immediately before, during, or after a practice or game.
- I will help my child embrace their role on the team. Roles can change during the season. All roles are essential to the team functioning and succeeding.
- I will provide encouragement and support for all young people who may need to hear it.
- I will value the personal growth and learning of my child as much as I value winning.
- I will be responsible for the behaviour of all my family members who may attend games.
- Failure to comply will result in disciplinary action.
